(54) DATA TRANSMITTING AND RECEIVING METHOD AND SYSTEM

(57)Abstract:

PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To synchronize and to match the timing of the musical sounds generated by the performance of players, the picture of the playing and voices and to reproduce them in the system in which playing, picture and voice data of a network concert using Internet are distributed through the network and the environment of the concert hall is reproduced from the data at a receiving side.

SOLUTION: The picture data generated in parallel with the musical.instrument.digital.interface(MIDI) form playing data by the playing operation of MIDI musical instruments 101, voice data (voices and the musical instruments other than MIDI musical instruments) and various associated data are made into MIDI events, combined with the MIDI type playing data and distributed. At the receiving side, a reproducing is conducted in a MIDI base, i.e., the picture and voice data, which are made into MIDI forms, are handled as conventional playing data on the MIDI and reproduced.
